It is understood that a grant of public lands by Congress for the joint benefit of the railways crossing the mountains, and connecting with the Southern Pacific Bailway, will be made at the present session. Should this be so, and this company receive its due proportion, the very early completion of this line to near Asheville and thence to the Tennessee and Kentucky system of railways will be assured.

CONCLUSION. 1. To sum up the main features and figures of this report, I desire to say We have 125 miles of railway east of Charlotte, and 43 miles west of that city, or 168 miles of good track now being operated—the Eastern Division yielding about $1,800 per mile in gross receipts—the Western Division $1,000 per mile. The cost of operating is about 50 per cent, of the gross receipts; the Western Division rather more than two divisions were connected. 2. The distance between the end of the Eastern Division track and the Western at Charlotte is (611) sixty-one and a half miles. That connection can be made for a sum not greater than $800,000, at the present prices of iron and labor. The Western Division can be finished to Shelbyville, (11 miles) for $78,100 with a fifty bound rail. The whole estimate for comoleting the track from Wilmington to Shelbyville, (240) two hundred and forty miles, is ($875,800) eight hundred and

3. The gross receipts and expenditures for the fiscal years, terminating Aug. 31, 1870, shows annual net receips of ($95,000) ninety-five thousand dollars; and they show further that the net receipts increase in much greater ratio than the increase or extension of track. 4. That when the track is completed to

Charlotte, that the receipts must amount to about three-fourths of a million of dollars : a sum amply sufficient, not only to render the work self-sustaining, but to pay an income to the share-holders. 5. The Bondholders are therefore as sured of their semi-annual interest, and the ultimate payment of their securities, provided the track can be carried on to Charlotte.
